Our Beloved Mother McClurken

DEDICATION

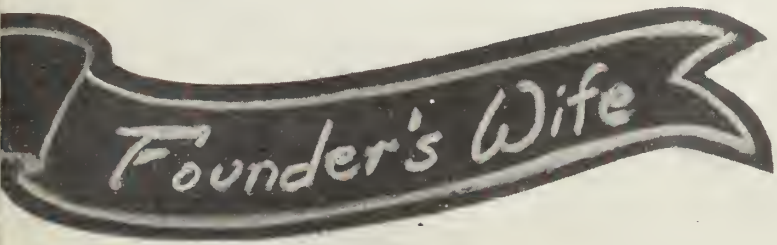

Some people were born to be great in the eyes of men; some were born to be great in the eyes of God. So it was with Mrs. J. O. McClurkan, the wife of the founder of Trevecca. To many of us she is not personally known; yet we have not been without her sacrificial influence. Motherly love and watchfulness seem to gather round about her. A great portion of the love of God encompasses her. Her gentle firmness causes her to swear to her own hurt and change not. Her fortitude of faith proves to her that tried truths are best. Her spiritual strength is as a tower ever looking upward.

Life to her is hope and love and peace in the Son of God. The past holds lovely memories; the future, great possibilities. To be in her presence is to be in the presence of a rose unfolding its hidden beauty and rare fragrance. She has been our instigator, our anchor, our mother throughout the years.

Her meekness caused her to grow in favor with God and man. Her sweetness won to her friends of every class. Her serenity makes her stand out as one who is enjoying life to the full. Surely she is a saint of God.

To many students she is counselor and guide. Discouragement is an unknown element in her fruitful life. Words of grief come from her lips as poetry. "Even the clouds weep with us today," she said at the funeral of a beloved friend. Such calmness of mind, such fervency of soul, such tenderness of heart can only be found in a person such as Mother McClurkan.

We love you for what you are, and admire you for your accomplishments. To you, Mother McClurkan, we dedicate the 1947 DARDA.

IN MEMORIAM

MARIBA EWING MACKEY

Born September 9, 1866, died February 13, 1947;
Christian, mother, teacher; embodiment of solid virtues, exponent of faith unwavering. Her memory gives us strength in hard places, and we, like her, thank God for them.

R. L. MURPHY

Born November 8, 1898; died April 3, 1947.

He walked with us those months a man—yes, one busy, diligent, and efficient—but, first of all, a Christian.

My Day

When you're a senior and can snatch the time between comprehensive nightmares to reminisce (and seniors do reminisce at this milestone), you'll think of the September day a few years back when you appeared on the campus as the greenest of green freshmen, and inquired about working your way through college. You'll remember your first impressions of the president and the deans and then think of your revised opinions; you'll recall the long hours spent in "working your way"; you'll remember the favorite classes and quotations from the faculty; you'll relive valuable chapel hours; and then your thoughts will pull you back to the present and the dreams of class pins, invitations, Skip Day, and graduation, and you'll conclude that your four years at Trevecca have been the happiest years of your life so far, giving to you countless friends, happy memories, and a big boost into the future.

Friends of
Trinity Nazarene College
Nashville 4, Tennessee

Dear Friends:

"Ignorance is bliss"—a statement that has been quoted too many times. It arises out of what might be called laziness or some other type of mental or physical weakness. John Stewart Mill was said to reply to the statement that even though it were true that ignorance is bliss, he had rather be an educated man unhappy than to be a pig perfectly satisfied. I think that Mr. Mill was too mild in his attitude. I would like to say that the statement is false. Mr. Roark, a psychologist, makes the statement that "to learn is to live; to know is to be happy."

Ignorance of the laws of health leads to physical pain and weakness and limits an individual's possibilities of service. Ignorance of traffic laws may relieve a person's mind for the moment of certain anxiety that would ultimately lead to accident and death and bereavement with which no one associates happiness. Ignorance of God's laws and truth lead to debauchery and sin, or the heathen's painful struggle to find a way to God. The statement, "It is folly to be wise," is in my opinion a definitely false statement and can only be made seriously by unwise people. I believe that wisdom is a cause of true happiness.

I would like to encourage the young people of the Church of the Nazarene to seek for knowledge and wisdom with all the strength they have, with all the energy they have, with all the courage they have, with all the help that God will give them even in spite of the fact that some one now and then will be accused of being mad because of great learning, which was true in the case of Paul the Apostle. I would like to see more consecrated people climb to the top of educational advancement, climb to the top in some skill, and climb to the top in the minds of unprejudiced thinkers. May we recognize the danger in climbing to the top educationally, but may we recognize that those dangers are few in comparison to the opportunities of changing the course of the world by having more consecrated Christian people become leaders in the fields of science and in the fields of literature and philosophy. May we lift the banner that says, "It is folly to be ignorant and it is bliss to be wise."

Yours for Christian education,

A. B. Mackay

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Ministerial Association is composed of those who have a definite call to Christian service. It is the purpose of this group to promote fellowship and spiritual life among the members of the association. The organization has had a successful and beneficial career, contributing much to the elevation of spiritual life here on the campus.

Each quarter members of this group speak in chapel services during one week. An annual lecture is sponsored by the Association. From time to time luncheons are given, at which time outstanding ministers of the church speak on topics which are beneficial to students of the ministry.

CHRISTIAN WORKERS ASSOCIATION

Hundreds of souls are reached each week by members of the Christian Workers Association. The young people who hold membership in this organization are those who actively take part in carrying the gospel to the needy people of Nashville.

Services are held each week in the jails, county and city workhouses, city hospital, and juvenile court by enthusiastic workers of the Association. Members of this group have accepted the challenge to preach the gospel to all people.

What are some of the advantages of being situated on a hill? Namely: The beauty of the surrounding landscape; the inspiration of the rising sun; the glory of the evening sunset; a purer atmosphere; a broadened horizon and therefore a larger view; a greater vision of the heavenly bodies. We can say with the psalmist David, "The heavens declare the glory of God, and th His handiwork".

Trevecca has these advantages in location but we are more concerned with the environment.

There is that wonderful Christ, the finest young people coming here—half of the states of "Blessed be the tie that binds man love", "Behold how good is for brethren to dwell together in unity".

The daily chapel services in endeavors to reach higher heights, ideals are proclaimed from Trevecca, strengthened, hope is renewed, the finer things of life are emphasized, of our living resurrection, upbuilding of the nation.

These are... our student body, of the meaning of life and possibilities through Christ, giving vision of attainment as they ascend to Him who rules on the highest whom emanates the light that brighter until it is blended with of God in the eternal light of "Seek ye first the kingdom of righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you". Young people of Trevecca be lost in the will of God and vision of true greatness until Jesus is seen in your hearts and the beauty of Jesus is seen in your lives to the needy world.

These students were selected by the student body and faculty as being outstanding in the junior and senior classes, using the standards of the publication, WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES, as a basis for judging.

HOMER ADAMS is from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, and is the president who keeps his state club on the map. He sang in the quartet before and after his enlistment in the Navy, and was president of the Glee Club in 1943. "Hector" is a versatile senior who has done a little of everything at Trevecca, from working several years on the DARDA staff to playing volley ball. This year he is advertising manager for the staff.

SARAH ELIZABETH SPRUILL of Nashville, Tennessee, is a junior. She has been active both in the school room and on the campus, serving as secretary of her class during their sophomore year and filling her place in the Tennessee Club and the Speech Club. She is now with the Mixed Chorus for the third year. To make her activities well-rounded, she participates in the athletic program of the school.

"Leppie" has been our nurse for three years; next fall LESFER HEFLIN, R.N., will take care of Indians. She has gained the approval of Trevecca through her scholastic achievements and extra-curricular work as Student Council president, and active participant in the chorus, Phi Delta Lambda, Missionary Prayer Band, Mississippi Club, and Christian work. We feel that she will be as good a missionary as she has been a student.

ROBERT GRAY is from Winchester, Tennessee. During the year '44-'45 he was president of the Christian Workers Association, and '45-'46 saw him as president of the student body. He is a member of the Tennessee Club and served as vice-president of that organization last year. Now he is treasurer of his junior class and associate editor of Trev-Echoes. The Tennessee District gave him his license to preach and he has held a student pastorate in Kirksey, Kentucky.

Many improvements at Trevecca College have been due to HOWARD WALL'S suggestions and his ability to carry out these plans. He is now president of the senior class, director of the News Agency, chairman of the Officers' Club, and co-editor of the DARDA. He was treasurer of his sophomore class, vice-president during his junior year, "beginner" and first editor of Trev-Echoes, a member of the Mixed Chorus for three years, and is now president of the Carolina Club for the third year. He hails from Raleigh, North Carolina, and for three years has held a license to preach from the Carolina District.

MARIAN EDWARDS was president of her class and worked on the DARDA staff and Trev-Echoes staff during her sophomore and junior years. She is secretary of the News Agency for the school, sang in the College Hill Trio for two years, and was member of the Mixed Chorus for four years. She comes from Miami and is a member of the Florida Club. During her senior year Marian has been editor of the DARDA.

MEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The athletic program at Trevecca during the year has been confined to intramural activities in football, basketball, and softball.

An athletic association was formed in September consisting of the following five groups, each of which sponsored a team: College Upperclassmen, College Dormitory Freshmen, College Non-Dormitory Freshmen, High School Seniors and Sophomores, and High School Juniors and Freshmen.

The football season was marked by heated competition and good sportsmanship throughout. The league championship was not determined until the very last game of the season, which found the College Non-Dormitory Freshmen defeating the High School Seniors and Sophomores for the title. The members of the winning team were entertained by the members of the losing teams at a luncheon following the close of the season.

No official champion of the basketball league was named; however, the College Non-Dormitory Freshmen appeared to have the edge in basketball also.

League competition in softball began in April. The College Upper-classmen appeared to be the team to watch as softball season got under way.

At the close of the school year trophies are being presented to the winners in each sport by the Florida Club.

The aim of the Men's Athletic Association is to develop physical fitness and Christian character through a spirit of wholesome competition and fair play.

College Upperclassmen: H. Adams, Chambers, Cox, Dunning, Gill, Glendenning, Hocutt, Howe, Lang, Langford, Morgan, Tate, Thrasher.

College Dormitory Freshmen: A. Boone, F. Boone, Carpenter, Errickson, Haney, Hinton, B. McCaskell, Mills, Nix, Pitzer, Sites, Tuggle.

College Non-Dormitory Freshmen: Ayers, Bankston, Brown, W. Cheek, T. Cook, H. L. Jeter, Jewell, Pratt, Rickey, Rosa, Smithson.

High School Seniors-Sophomores: J. Allen, A. Benson, Cooper, Crossman, L. Jeter, O. McCaskell, Robinson, Spruill.

High School Juniors-Freshmen: B. Anderson, B. Benson, Browning, Nance, Shearer, Stanley.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

At Trevecca girls have the privilege of taking part in various types of athletics with Christian participants. We feel that this type of activity is helpful in developing sportsmanship among the students as well as in developing them physically. We desire that our students grow physically and socially as well as mentally and spiritually for the glory of God.

With the high school there was competition in basketball and in softball. Also the college and high school competed in softball.

Over one-third of Trevecca's student body is taking work in the music department. Many of these students also sing in the chorus, our outstanding musical organization. Under the direction of Mrs. Bennett the chorus this year presented Stults' "The World's True Light," Christmas cantata, and Dubois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ," Easter cantata. These singers have also furnished music for outstanding school occasions. The Girls' Glee Club, too, has contributed to school programs during the year, under the direction of Miss Paschall.

The orchestra and brass trio have added much to the musical aspect of our chapel services and special revival efforts. On several occasions the trio has supplied special music for public church services in the city. Music students are presented in recitals at the school during the year.

SPEECH DEPARTMENT

Jimmy Tate speaks as Miss Hooper operates the new wire recorder, probably the only one of its kind in the state. Fifty students are enrolled for laboratory speech and have access to the recorder. It is also used in private speech lessons and the large elementary speech class, where speech defects are spotted and corrected. In the interpretations class, too, we "hear ourselves as others hear us."

Herbert Brown speaks before a sympathetic audience—the speech class. Before the year is half over, however, the student who used to be timid boldly walks to the front and tells the class what is on his mind, exhibiting good posture, clear tones, and poise, thanks to Miss Hooper.

Sarah Spruill reads "The Man With the Hoe"

SPEECH CLUB

The Speech Club was organized this year to promote activities that will build the speech department. Interest has been aroused and support given in a financial way that has strengthened the department and helped it to make a sizeable contribution to the school, mainly in response to the appeals made by the leader of the group, Milton Turney. Members of the speech classes and those studying speech privately are presented in programs and recitals throughout the year.

TREVECCA!

To give you an idea...

Your Publishing House . . .

is an institution of the church. It is controlled by the church. It is operated for the sole purpose of serving the church as a denominational press and supply house and to assist the church in its program of giving the full gospel to the whole world. Its particular part of that program is of course the ministry of the printed page.

To give you an idea of the part the Nazarene Publishing House is privileged to have in the work of the church we give you the following facts:

THE NAZARENE PUBLISHING HOUSE

—has assets totaling more than one million dollars—every dollar dedicated to the task of spreading the gospel over the entire world.

—is literally “girdling the globe with salvation.” If the periodicals published since 1912 were placed end to end they would completely encircle the earth and cover more than 20,000 miles on the second circuit. More than 23,500,000 periodicals are now being published annually.

—is filling a vital place in the field of religious book publishing. During the calendar year closing December 31, 1946 more than 156,400 books and booklets have been printed.

—is a substantial contributor to the general interests of the church. Since 1940, more than $174,000 has been given to various departments of general church activity.

—is equipped and ready to fill orders for anything in the religious field needed for personal, Sunday school or church use. Your patronage is urged for any and all items of a religious nature needed by yourself, your church or your Sunday school.
